CBMI 2001 CALL FOR PAPERS

This International Workshop sponsored by the IEEE IMDSP technical committee aims at bringing together various communities (audio, video, image, textual information retrieval, artificial intelligence) involved in various aspects of Multimedia Indexing.

A non limitative list of topics to be covered in the Workshop is:

- Multimedia indexing (image, audio, video, text)
- Multimedia content extraction
- Matching and similarity search
- Construction of high level indices
- Multi-modal and cross-modal indexing
- Representation models
- Content-based search techniques
- Presentation tools
- Meta-data compression and transformation
- Applications

SUBMISSION PROCEDURES

Submissions will be based on full size papers (6-8 pages). Best papers presented at CBMI'2001 will be selected for inclusion in a Special Issue of the IEEE Multimedia Magazine. Authors of selected papers will be asked to prepare an extended version of their papers for a second review round. The paper submission must be made electronically using the submission forms provided in the conference web site:

<http://cbmi01.eurecom.fr/>

Each selected paper (ten-page limit) will be published in the Proceedings of CBMI'2001, using high quality paper for good image reproduction. Style files will be provided for the convenience of the authors. Please consult the web site of the conference for further information.
